

To: Participants of the Groningen Declaration Network (GDN)
 From: GDN Executive Board
 RE: Annual Fee Structure

In order to help sustain the organization and its goal to guide the future of digital student data portability, the Groningen Declaration Network has introduced modest annual participant contributions.

Category	2018 Annual Fee (Euro)
Corporate (first named member)	€2,000
Subsequent named members	€ 300
Government / Not for Profit / Education Institution (first named member)	€ 500
Subsequent named members	€ 200
Individual	€ 100
Note: Bursaries are available to individuals and organisations for whom the fees are a barrier to participation. Contact info@GroningenDeclaration.org

Our value proposition is robust, as GDN continues to gain momentum throughout the world. Our network currently comprises more than 1,300 experts around the globe, with quite a few important international pilots and projects initiated during our six annual meetings to date. This is exactly why the Network was established – to be a convening force that brings together thought leaders, chief decision makers, business leaders and experts from a wide variety of sectors and industries. And by doing that, to spark innovation by motivating attendees to seize the potential for multidisciplinary collaboration and thus support global human capital mobility and make life-long learning a reality.

In other words, your participation generates global exposure to your target market, at a fraction of the cost of a normal public relations campaign... and with far better yields via GDN.

By contributing your annual fee, you actively advance GDN's strategic aims:

1. The GDN is acknowledged for providing academic, practical and consultative expertise to lead the global adoption of strategies and tactics towards the digital learner data ecosystem.
2. The GDN will be the umbrella organization with a critical mass of active participants to facilitate collaboration, engagement and synergies among regional and global organisations and initiatives.
3. The GDN partners with organisations and projects on all continents, aligned to the goal of advancing education and mobility, through regional or segmented hubs that encourage inclusive participation from countries, regions, developing nations and other stakeholders.

We invite you to join us in ensuring that the GDN continues to deliver all of these benefits (and more), on a firm financial footing as we move forward. Any questions may be directed to info@GroningenDeclaration.org

Payments (wire transfers) can be made to the following account:

Account Holder:	stichting Groningen Declaration Network
Bank:	Triodos Bank
Bank Code (SWIFT/BIC):	TRIONL2U
GDN Account Number (IBAN):	NL90 TRIO 0338 6054 36

The stichting (Foundation) Groningen Declaration Network was established as an International Public Benefit Foundation under Dutch private law on 20 December 2016. The Foundation GDN is incorporated and registered with the Dutch Chamber of Commerce under Business Registration Number 67518613 and RSIN Number 857045283 (RSIN is the legal entities and joint cooperation ventures information number).